

Decision of Institutional Certified Evaluation and Accreditation

The National Institute of Technology, Kisarazu College complies with the Standards for the Establishment of Colleges of Technology and other relevant laws and regulations and meets the Standards for Evaluation and Accreditation of Colleges of Technology set by the National Institution for Academic Degrees and Quality Enhancement of Higher Education (NIAD-QE). It fulfills all requirements defined as Priority Evaluation Items in Viewpoint 1-1.

The best practices identified by the review committee include the following:

- 1) The College has served as a base school for the KOSEN Security Educational Community since 2015 and focuses its efforts on training information security professionals while enhancing its lectures, seminars, and e-learning systems. With the College encouraging participation in various contests, students are actively involved in activities related to security and the Internet of Things (IoT). They earned remarkable achievements that include winning the Excellence Award at the Crisis Management Contest and being selected for the KOSEN Wireless IoT Contest.
- 2) The employment rate (the number of students employed divided by the number of students seeking post-graduation employment) for the associate and diploma courses is extremely high, with graduates employed in the manufacturing and other industries suitable for engineers the College hopes to produce. The rate of students advancing to higher education (the number of students advancing to higher education divided by the number of students wishing to do so) for the regular and advanced courses is also extremely high, with graduates advancing to the diploma courses at the colleges of technology, faculties of engineering, or graduate schools related to their associate and diploma courses.

The College's response to the coronavirus pandemic:

NIAD-QE asked the College to report its response to the coronavirus pandemic, as the spread of infections has affected educational activities in unprecedented ways since the beginning of the 2020 school year. Consequently, it was confirmed that the College is taking certain measures to prevent infections.
